TAFTVILLE

Concrete Roof Nearly Done at New Weave Shed—Large Attendance at Whist—Notes.

The concrete work on the twentieth of the twenty-two sections of the saw-tooth roof of the Penamach company's new weave shed was finished Friday night by the men of the Bishop company of Providence, Supt. W. A. Chaffee says it is one of the quickest jobs of concrete roofing he has seen. Other workmen are engaged in finishing the wall and few feet of roof at the north end of the mill and in a few days the other two roof sections will be done as far as the concrete work is concerned. The first of the glass-frames have been put in this week at the southern end of the mill. The 100 foot brick chimney is going up satisfactorily.

A problem now is the digging out of the coal pocket and at the same time keeping the trestle strong enough to bear up safely the cars heavily loaded with lumber and other material that pass over the track. The ledge has been dug out, a steam drill being constantly in use. The pocket is to be 70 feet long, its floor 25 feet below street level. Part of the water main from the old yard down to the new mill has been laid this week. At the velvet mill the saw-tooth roof of the 60x130 weave shed there is being pushed along rapidly. The front wall of the south addition to the mill is being built up.
